FOREWORD

Dear students,

from the 8th to the 12th of February it is time again! The annual elections for the student parliament and the student councils will take place and you will have the opportunity to cast your votes.

This magazine is intended to present the candidate lists to you and thus contribute to the formation of opinion. Even for all those who do not know why they should vote or how it works, the following pages will help you. If you have any comments on the programs listed here or need further information, you can enter into an exchange with the lists. They are solely responsible for the content and design of the presentation pages. We, the election committee, are subject to absolute neutrality towards the persons or lists standing for election. For this reason, we will not recommend, promote or advise against specific candidates.

However, we are allowed to make a recommendation:

Inform yourself! Form your own opinion! Go vote!

You can reach us at any time via the e-mail address wahlausschuss@asta.uni-siegen.de for questions, information and documents regarding the elections. Here you also have the possibility to ask for everything you need to apply for a postal vote.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people within the student body and the university who have supported us during the preparation of the election.

Now enjoy reading!

Your election committee

THE ELECTION COMMITTEE

From left to right: Flamur Hashani, Daniel Schwenk, Justin Hampel, Lena Langwald, Armin Bresler, Christian Otto and Eike Kretzschmar.

The members of the Election Committee were nominated by the university lists as follows:

Campus Grün: Lena Langwald,
Christian Otto

Die LISTE: Armin Bresler
RCDS & JU: Justin Hampel,
Carlos Guel Vega

Juso Hochschulgruppe: Daniel Schwenk
LHG Siegen: Eike Kretzschmar

SDS. Die Linke. Siegen: Flamur Hashani,
Benedikt Novak

The election officer and his deputy were elected unanimously during the constituent meeting of the election committee:

Election officer: Daniel Schwenk

Deputy election officer: Justin Hampel

An independent committee is responsible for planning and conducting the elections, to which the university lists with the largest number of seats in the current legislature send nine students no later than 50 days before the first election day. However, of the nine people who are not allowed to stand for election themselves because of their job, two serve as substitute members. Mainly, the committee acts according to the regulations within the statutes of the student body as well as - and even more so - the election regulations of the constituted student body. On the occasion of this year's elections, the 47th Student Parliament also issued special regulations to help protect all persons involved from infection with the SARS-CoV-2 coronavirus and its mutations that have been circulating in the meantime. Thus, the election committee was ultimately able to plan for an exclusively postal vote, which will now take place. Applications for this can still be submitted to the Election Committee by mail until Friday, 5 February.

WHAT TO VOTE

WHAT IS STUPA?

The Student Parliament (StuPa) is the highest decision-making body of student self-administration at the University. It consists of 25 elected representatives with voting rights who belong to university political lists. The mandate holders are usually elected in the winter semester for one year. The Student Parliament holds public meetings, the dates of which are published on the homepage of the General Student Committee (AStA). Every student at the University of Siegen is entitled to speak and submit motions at these meetings. The Student Parliament deals with matters and problems that affect the entire student body. These include, for example, the election of the AStA board and the confirmation and control of the AStA officers, the appointment of committees to carry out special tasks such as the election committee, the adoption of the budget of the student body, the maintenance of existing regulations of the student body, the allocation of project funds and the recognition of initiatives.

WHAT ARE LISTEN?

In the StuPa elections, university political lists compete against each other. These lists are comparable to parties. Some lists are more or less official offshoots of real parties, others are independent of parties. Lists can represent certain political tendencies, but they can also simply represent certain interest groups within the VS. If you don't feel represented by any of the lists, you can also set up a university political list as an individual and run for the next StuPa election. On the following pages, the candidate lists introduce themselves and their priorities and goals for the coming legislative period.

WHAT ARE FSRE?

The Student Representative Councils (FSRe) represent the students' interests at subject level. They represent the interests and concerns of the students internally, e. g. as members of committees such as the faculty council, as well as externally, e. g. in the form of public statements on issues that affect the student council. FSRe advise you on problems with lecturers, the examination office, studies and everything that concerns the subject level. Representatives of the FSRe often participate as members of bodies such as the Faculty Council or the Student Advisory Board in the creation of new study regulations or sit on appointment committees and thus have a direct influence on the appointment of professors. Another important task of the FSR is the organisation of the student first semester orientation (ESE), which is often crucial for a good start into the student life. Each FSR has a certain budget that can be used for the needs of the student body. Accordingly, FSRs often organise events such as lectures or student parties. The number of FSR mandates is regulated by the Fachschaftsrahmenordnung or the corresponding FSR statutes.

HOW TO VOTE

HOW TO VOTE?

In the StuPa election, each voter has a total of 3 votes, which can be freely allocated. These can be distributed among a list or individual candidates. Several lists and candidates can be elected. It is also possible to abstain from voting.

In the FSR election, each voter has one vote. Here, too, it is possible to abstain from voting. Depending on the degree programme, one of these FSRs can be elected:

FSR Architecture & Urban Planning, FSR Civil Engineering, FSR Chemistry-Biology, FSR eti (Electrical Engineering & Computer Science), FSR GG LaBaMa (Humanities & Social Sciences, Teacher Training, Bachelor, Master), FSR GHR (Grund- Haupt- und Realschule), FSR Mechanical Engineering, fsr. maths (Mathematics), FSR Physics, FSR PSY (Psychology), FSR SLM (Language, Literature and Media Studies), FSR Social Work, WIR FSR (Economics, Computer Science & Law).

All students who have been enrolled since 04.01.2021 have the right to vote. Guest and secondary students are neither eligible to vote nor to be elected. However, students on leave of absence may vote and be elected.

PORTOBALLOT ROAD

A GUIDE FOR POSTAL-ONLY VOTE

The elections for the 48th Student Parliament and the Student Councils of the University of Siegen will take place from 08 to 12 February 2021 exclusively as a postal vote. The absentee ballot must be requested from the election administration by e-mail using the student e-mail address by 05.02.2021 at the latest. The postal voting documents will then be sent to the voter (only within Germany). To apply for an absentee ballot, please attach your valid student ID in connection with your identity card or passport to the application e-mail and state the address to which the absentee ballot documents are to be sent.

The postal documents consist of 2 ballot papers (one for the StuPa and one for the student council), a ballot envelope, a ballot paper with the assurance that the eligible voter has filled in the ballot paper personally and an envelope addressed to the election administration.

The ballot paper must be sent no later than the last day of voting 12.02.2021, as only these or earlier mailed ballot papers will be taken into account in the counting. Election letters sent later will be excluded from the count. The basis for checking the date of dispatch is the respective postmark.

The destination address for the election letters is:

Dear students,

This year again, Campus Gün (green campus) wants to bring your green and alternative topics to the University of Siegen. We campaign for a social and environmental university.

In doing so we strive to work gender sensitively and on a basis of democracy: everybody is allowed to engage in their own way and without a hierarchy, everybody is given a right to say.

Sustainability

Climate crisis is present and we are heading towards an unstoppable destruction of the ecosystem we live in until 2030. We as students have power over our own ecological footprint, but the University of Siegen could contribute to a future not marked by extinction with climate neutral Co2 emissions: less use of plastic and more use of recyclable materials! As demanded by the body of students, we advocate for a Unit for Sustainability and Environmentalism. We demand there be more green sites for recreation and sustainability included in the construction of the university, meaning more areas where students may study in nature, roof greening and strips of wildflowers supporting biodiversity. In time of climate crises the university of Siegen should organize its consumption of electricity sustainably from a photovoltaic system. Furthermore we want to summon the University of Siegen to be strict and consequent in waste separation.

Queer-Feminism

Life at university happens mostly based on the normality of sexism, meaning that people who are not the male gender suffer structural discrimination from a patriarchal society. Everybody would benefit from overcoming gender stereotypes! We demand for a surrounding where everybody can develop freely with their different needs. We call for more gender justice, also acknowledging people who do not identify with binary social structures.

Social Justice

Structural deficiencies impede the studies unnecessarily. Access to higher education is hindered or even prevented by classist selection, where people are discriminated for their social background. People with disabilities encounter complications in wanting to realize their studies - a fact that is simply not acceptable in a society of inclusivity. We demand accessibility at each campus. Daily life at university is marked by pressure to perform and compete, and financial insecurities - factors which often result in psychological strain. The newly edited Higher Education Act endangers student self-determination with its ideas of compulsory attendance and agreements on the courses of studies. Massive financial cuts are planned at the university for the coming year. These cannot impact research, education and personnel!

Clearly against right wing extremism

Racist and neofascist ideologies appear in various shapes and are also detectable at our university, in the midst of our society. Considering a fascist party in the Bundestag and aggressive appearance of new right wing movements as for example the Dritter Weg, a societal shift to the right becomes obvious. We demand strict consequences for hateful utterances of lecturers, professors and students. We plead for an animate culture of remembrance at university. We ask for a new campus to be named after Walter Kramer, a member of the resistance in the Third Reich. We unite clearly against racism, sexism, antisemitism, antiromanism and any other form of group related hostility and xenophobia.

Dear fellow students,

we, the only true and best LISTE, have decided to give you the honour of being able to elect us. We are the list for intergalactic champagne receptions and trologdytic elite transportation, and stand for the following goals.

What do we want?

Well, we want many things, but our utopian election program can be outlined as followed:

During the last election we demanded a beer vending machine, but noticed how unecological this demand would be. Which is why we have refined it: We now demand a beer dispenser. A beer dispenser offers many advantages. Not only are there various heverage containers to borrow in the cafeteria for a certain deposit, but obviously everyone can also bring their own container. The Mensa app allows contactless payment and you receive a freshly tapped beer in no time – now that's what we call sustainable.

But we also want to put up deposit machines at each canteen location, because we know all too well how scarce funds can be at the end of the month. To battle student poverty, we call for the acceptance of deposit as payment in our canteens. Which will in turn allow for the collection of art supplies in the form of bottles and cans.

Regarding sustainability, we are and remain in favor of the introduction of sporks! This wonderful combination of fork and spoon, makes lives so much easier and we know that everyone loves 2-in-1 systems! It's our opinion, that resources are being wasted different types of cutlery just because the three-piece cutlery set was invented centuries ago - We find this view problematic, antique, and reactionary. However, this isn't an overnight whack-and-jerk action. The forks can be sold to more backward universities, the spoons will be reworked by the students themselves. For 100 reworked spoons you will get 1 credit point. We are also planning a competition for the best spork design. Whoever wins this competition will receive free canteen food for the entire duration of their studies.

We also want to change our StuPa, because at the moment it is often boring and very tedious. On the one hand we want to introduce plants: Before each TOP of the agenda, a plant of one of our deputies has to be presented! As long as the StuPa takes place on Zoom, this should not be a problem, after that an, already preplanned, schedule comes into effect. Furthermore, it is boring to see the same thing every time, so we are for sessional mottos - yes, that's right - every StuPa takes place under a different motto. Delegates will have to wear costume, and the presidium will have to prepare a little lecture about the session's theme. It will give us a more fun and educational StuPa!

Perhaps at this point, in the middle of the election program, another apology is in order: We are the radical and extreme center for which we would like to apologize, also on behalf of our parents.

Now we would like to explain what the distant future has in store for us and the University of Siegen. First of all, the move to the city is coming, but the science faculties will remain on the mountain and look over Moria like the tower of Orthanc. But why shouldn't this be combined with fun? A chairlift or a suspension railroad, as they have often been discussed, are good approaches to public transport. But what if a local recreation alternative could be designed directly? Especially for student families with children this would be an advantage, hence our demand: The construction of a water slide down the mountain, which is converted into a bobsleigh track during winter. To change lanes, high-five bare switches will be installed that can be operated by those sliding. In this way, fun and convenience of a fast descent come together. We are also working on a futuramaliike vacuum tube system, which should make all this much more efficient.

And last but not least, the Universities move to the City does not go far enough for us. We are all aware that Siegen is a commuter university. Many people commute by car and train every day, especially from the metropolitan area of Cologne, which is not environmentally friendly. The university tries a lot to make Siegen more attractive, but many things fail and especially Corona showed that you don't have to move to Siegen, even if you study here. Therefore our long-term plan is the move of the Uni to Cologne": We demand that Siegen is abandoned as a location!

How will the LISTE achieve this?

This question is as simple as it is quickly answered: We want form the AstA. Being the opposition is not enough and for suckers. For the other college groups and interested people: We have a regular plenum on Wednesdays at 7pm and invite you to join. (Serious requests only please, all participants must be aware of the political implications. No fun lists like the SDS or the JU!)

Last question: Who are we and why are we the best?

List position #1: Isa, she is the best (quasi) and her third favorite dinosaur is a triceratops

List position #2: Till left the SDS because he was fed up with non serious politics and is fed up with the busses being late.

List position #3: Matthias, is still in favor of uni sex and gifts fun toys during Zoom meetings.

List position #4: Moe, keeps a bald head for you, even during this year and is considered the founder and saint of at least six sectarian religious communities.

List Rank #5: Aaron, doesn't bear any historical guilt and hopes that he can steal cigarettes and bottle deposit from the other delegates.

Die LISTE

Die Regenbogen Weltraum Panda Piraten (short: ReWePaPi):

List position 1:

Hello,

My name is Martin Wrobel. I study mathematics and physics to become a teacher for secondary school. Last year I attended the StuPa sessions quite frequently and came to the conclusion, that I could do the same. So I made some phone calls and joined forces with the boys to found the list "Die Regenbogen Weltraum Panda Piraten". I was also able to gain university political experience through meetings of the AFsK, as well as work in the physics student council.

List position 2:

Hi,

I am Jens Borgemeister and I study physics. I am familiar with university politics through several committees, FSR, Faculty Council, Senate and also for almost a year Stupa. Actually I didn't plan to run for the Stupa anymore, but when Martin recently asked me if I wanted to join a new university party, I agreed after a short consideration with the condition that Panda would be in the name. I think our list will be great - how can it be different with pandas in the name ;)

List position 3:

Hey guys,

my name is Mirco (Alexander) Hotz, I am 23 years old and in 3rd position on the list. I am studying German and English to become a teacher for secondary school and hope to get my bachelor's degree soon. And since the university is very close to my heart, I will of course head for the sun afterward to accompany the University of Siegen on its galactic adventures.

Unlike many of my fellow students, I have never held a political office or been active in a party in any way. However, I don't see the latter as a disadvantage, since this allows me to be completely free of party-bound ideologies. Therefore, I very much welcomed the fact that our 1st position list member Martin (Greetings) approached me to start a new list detached from parties. This gives me the freedom to run according to my moral compass.

What finally moved me to run for StuPa was the fact that in the second half of last year I noticed that (in my eyes) many things within the StuPa could have been solved differently. Now I have met people who have a similar point of view, and together we are now trying, in the best Panda like, to reach for the stars and become part of the new StuPa, in order to be able to put our visions into practice.

The University of Siegen is moving to the city? We doubt it! We want more. We send the University of Siegen into space.

Why do we want to send the University of Siegen into space? Well, quite simply unlike an international maritime court there is no space court. Consequently, all actions that happen 10km above the earth's atmosphere are lawless. From space, we can take control of all satellites and thus control the entire Internet as well as GPS (as a small bonus, we block the TikTok servers). In order for the industrialized nations to continue to have access to this, GEZ like fees must be paid to us. With the money, we can then really provide education for all. All the people who want to study with us should be given the opportunity to do so. That means, that there won't be any courses of studies with NC, because in space is finally enough room for all. BAföG as well as working students won't exist anymore. A basic income should be guaranteed for students, which is sufficient for living without any problems. In order to put these goals into practice, we have recruited a physics master's student into our own ranks. In addition, we have faith in the faculty 4. Vote for us.

(For real. (Boy.))

Where can I park as a student when Westerwalders are on the road?

Have you ever been in such a situation? You want to drive around at night to escape the lonely isolation of your own four walls, proceed to park for a short while, and then notice that three out of four possible parking spaces are occupied by a single car? Not infrequently, a car with the letter combination WW is involved in such a tragedy. We know, everyone has their vices. Where Siegens residents let the engines of their little VW Lupo roar, Westerwalders often need more than eight tries to find space in several parking spaces at once. And then there are the increased CO2 emissions! But how do you solve such problems? The ReWePaPis agree, tougher measures must be taken. Even if the occupation of several parking spaces is probably not done out of malice, it does prevent residents and students from parking, forcing them to drive even further through the area. Therefore, there can only be a toll to compensate for the damage caused by CO2 emissions. Alternatively, of course, coaches could be ordered to pick up students from the WW region conveniently at their doorsteps and then drive them to the university. It is self-evident that this option is not for people from Sauerland. They can continue to take the train.

Let's grab a bottle of beer and have some fun together!

Grüne Liste - „Green List“

Good day,

my name is Atakan Aydogan, I am 23 years old, was born in Siegen und study german and history to become a teacher in grammar and comprehensive schools.

Before the pandemic and the closure of the libraries and archives, I worked as a student assistant for the professorship „European History of Knowledge and Communication in Modernity“, in which I earned a basic knowledge of science with lecturers, so I would like to help you, if you have any kind of questions towards me.

Since more than a year I am also the chairman of the official college group „MHG Siegen“, in which we establish contacts and maintain friendships and where we see us as a family.

This college group also performs many community services and social projects, like the opening of the „Room of Silence“ at the AR-campus, in which you can find calm from the turbulent and loud everyday life of the university.

We gave „iftar“-meals in intercultural events with up to a thousand guests (before the pandemic) and recently established a fountain in Bangladesh to help the needy people, on the spot, just to give you a few examples.

All this was financed and able just through the voluntary work of students and even lecturers, for example selling the tastiest and cheapest waffles in the university or through finding sponsors (small business owners).

As the external representer of our group, I learned the unfounded skepticism from parts of the university policy towards our voluntary work.

I noticed that those, who proclaim publicly to defend equality and fight against discrimination, are the same, who prefer ethnic groups for personal and political reasons, even when it violates the statutes of the student body.

While quoting the statutes, some even denied at the end the existence of ethnic college groups, for which we however are paying with our semester fees for years now.

So why we have all the departments for equality and nice sentences in paragraphs against discrimination, when really nobody is there to stand up for them?

The way of communication and the level of double standards, arrogance and rudeness of some actors of the university policy against me were far below my human dignity and served me as a wake-up call, in which I decided to actively shape the university policy by myself.

So I established my own list, the „Green List“ or „Grüne Liste“.

The move into the student parliament as a single candidate is an important first step for me to fight discrimination in our university, while my longterm goal is surely to reach an absolute majority in the parliament with your help.

Even if my agenda is not politically empty, I want to be in contact and exchange on a grassroots level with you to get ideas (which means support) so as not to rise from the ground of the facts, while giving you a voice.

My idea of politics here is beyond „left or right?“.

I think good politics depends on making his job and not on romantic future utopias, which were likely forgotten and disregarded in reality.

Nevertheless I think it is indispensable to create a political perspective for our environment, which affects all living beings equally.

Lists: The respective university policy lists are responsible for the opinions expressed on these pages.

Only if we start to clean up the rubbish on our campus, we can pass this idea on, to change something.

Pollution can not be accepted and must have serious consequences!

Demands for more green spaces like the „Old Meadow“ at the AR-campus, which was a popular spot for students in the summer, are legit in my opinion.

I also want us to stop giving up our peaceful and free ideas, so that everyone, no matter if woman, muslim, black, disabled or any other minority, can expect a dignified and human treatment and is represented democratically.

Equal opportunity is the most important foundation for social peace.

My ideal wish is, that you advertise, criticize and contradict me as your elected member, while giving me ideas for the future to establish good, realistic and transparent politics.

There are many political issues on the agenda, which I want to approach with your help: high semester fees, few apartments, quality of work for students, infrastructure, leisure activities and equality for all ethnic and religious groups and the end of privileges for some ethnic groups, due to interest-based personnel policy, on the part of student representatives.

We need an objective culture of political debate, detached from emotional decisions and tendencies to act affective.

Establishing contacts with college groups from other universities, represents an outstanding role for me, to create a broad movement and to achieve our goals.

With your vote, I will work to end the chaotic conditions in the „Asta“ and establish a hierarchical-structured order and a clear distribution of competencies.

You deserve to be represented by a responsible authority, so give me your vote!

Love,

Atakan Aydogan, Grüne Liste

Our demands:

More digital studying opportunities

- More workstations for the transition between online and offline
- Guidance on how to use Zoom for students and faculty
- Recordings of events
- Partial support for digitized self-study
- Good digital teaching during and after the COVID 19 pandemic.

Studying

- Sufficient social housing
- Adapt BAföG to the realities of life!
- Anja Karliczek must act. Expand and maintain bridging assistance
- Study the way you want - ban compulsory attendance and mandatory study schedules.
- Better financing of the student union

Studying International

- More support services for international students
- Translations of all documents, forms and the entire website

The Future is Feminist!

- Strengthen research from the perspective of women
- Support students with children
- Support feminist projects
- Increase the proportion of women lecturers, doctoral candidates
- Awareness work and reflection with student initiatives

Support your local Antifa

- Breaking up and fighting right-wing structures in Siegen
- Networking with other universities
- Fight against racism and fascism
- Educate about conspiracy myths

We are Listenlos, a non-partisan list.

All 4 candidates are active in the basis work of university politics. As employees, project positions, part of FSRs, university committees, initiatives or autonomous units. The list was founded in 2019 for the last election. We all do not find ourselves in any other existing list. This is mainly because we want to work in a non-partisan way. Even if the inner-university politics is interlocked with practical politics and processes always have to be considered as a whole society, we had to realize in the past that many things can only be achieved in small steps. But don't worry - many small steps also lead to the goal. Therefore, we focus on the issues that affect us in Siegen at and outside the university. Politics by students for students. Therefore, we would like to briefly introduce our core topics and then ourselves to you in the following:

- ACCESSIBILITY

Here we do not only focus on the structural accessibility, but we should all pay attention to respect and implement the principles of our statutes of VS¹, which means the best possible equal opportunities for all of us at all levels.

- SUSTAINABILITY

When we hear the word sustainability, we first think of the environment, our planet. But when we think of sustainability, we should also think of ourselves and our studies. Because let's face it, sustainability is important in our studies, too. We all know it, we all have experienced it. Bulimic learning. Learning everything quickly just before the exam, then getting rid of it during the exam, and nothing is really remembered. We are therefore committed to making active co-determination in the design of teaching more attractive. WE are the largest status group at the university, let's make something of it together.

- TOLERANCE AND ACCEPTANCE

It is perfectly normal that we do not all agree, it is enormously important to us that we work together at the university and not against each other. In addition to equal treatment and constructive criticism, it is especially important to strengthen and expand committees and to act hand in hand in the interest of the students.

- TRANSPARENCY

This point was propagated to the maximum in the past, but often fell short of the claims. We do not promise that everything will always run optimally, but we will do our best to comply with this, e.g. by means of a live ticker on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter during the student parliament meetings, since protocols are often a little delayed.

- COMMUNICATION

This point also stands for acting united as a student body, especially in communication with the rectorate and university interfaces. A good cooperation between the student parliament and AStA is essential. Here the fronts were recently very hardened and we hope to be able to strike new paths together with all parties involved in the next legislature.

¹§1 (3) The student body shall work on an equal, democratic and non-partisan basis regardless of gender, ethnic origin, nationality, religion or worldview, sexual identity, disability and age.

Lists: The respective university policy lists are responsible for the opinions expressed on these pages.

- QUEER-FEMINIST EDUCATIONAL WORK

All people are equal and should be treated equally. Queer feminism for us does not mean favoring one group of people, but ensuring that ALL people, regardless of gender, sexual orientation or sexual identity, experience the same opportunities and equal conditions, no matter what the setting. Ignorance often means rejection, but this is exactly what we want to counteract through collaboration with autonomous units that are already dedicated to this important cause.

- MAKING UNIVERSITY POLICY MORE ATTRACTIVE

We can only make a difference together. The more students from a wide range of interests and disciplines are willing to participate in shaping everyday life at the university, the better the entire student body will be represented. We want to make university politics and VS work more tangible and thus bring a breath of fresh air into the university policy landscape.

- OUR IDEALS

Not only to oppose, but also to do something ourselves

Let old stories rest and work together instead

Take nothing for granted, remain critical, bring in and allow new impulses.

The basis for our work is and remains the statutes of the VS

LIST POSITION 1: Ann-Kathrin Peters [she;her]

Hello everyone, I am Anni and study English and social sciences for LA GymGe. I started in university politics in 2019 through the student council work and realized with the increasing number of committees I am already allowed to represent you in, how important it is that we get involved. I have made it my goal to convince more students of committee work and thus ensure co-determination in teaching!

LIST POSITION 2: Tatjana Sticher [they;them]

Hi! I'm Jana and I like to yell at people. At least that has been my motto as an election worker:in since I started studying business administration in 2016. But I'm not only dealing with university policy besides my studies, I'm also responsible for the moves of the committees of the VS as a project position. My goal is to bring some order and sustainability into the existing student parliament chaos, as far as it is possible.

LIST POSITION 3: Anastasia Nomerowskaja [she;her]

Hello, my name is Anastasia and I study German and European business law. I am already sitting in the student parliament for the second time and I am also active in other university committees. For me it is important to help people so that everyone feels comfortable at the university.

LIST POSITION 4: Viktoria Hauk [she;her]

I am Vicky, I study elementary education with integrated special education. I have been active in the student parliament for 2.5 years. My strong sense of justice drives me in this parliament to question everything, but also to let all sides have their say. It is therefore important to me that every student is heard and that we deal with each other constructively.

UNSER WAHLPROGRAMM OUR ELECTION PROGRAM

DIGITALISIERUNG

Barrierefreier Distanzunterricht: Vorlesungen aufnehmen und online zur Verfügung stellen, sowie sämtliche Literatur der Bibliotheken. Zudem eine nutzerfreundliche Oberfläche der Bibliothekshomepage. Online Klausuren einführen und die digitale Lehre auch nach der Pandemie aufrechterhalten und ausbauen.

MOBILITÄT

Semesterticket nach Marburg, Gießen und Koblenz erweitern sowie eine bessere Taktung der Linienbusse zur Universität. Wir streben eine engere und bessere Kommunikation mit den Verkehrsbetrieben an.

UNILEBEN

Hochschulsport von und für Studenten – Mit der Unterstützung der Universität Hochschulsportarten selbst anbieten sowie ein Hochschulsportturnier im Sommersemester bei dem sich Studenten aus ganz Deutschland in ihren Disziplinen messen. Zudem eine Fächerübergreifende Berufsmesse an der Uni Siegen für alle Studiengänge.

FINANZEN

Weniger AStA wagen – Einfluss des AStA auf die Hochschullandschaft und kommunale Themen konzentrieren anstatt Weltpolitik zu thematisieren. Zudem möchten wir ein nachhaltiges Rückzahlungskonzept bei der Rückzahlung von Kleinkrediten erarbeiten, welches nicht nur auf Vertrauen basiert.

DIGITALIZATION

Accessible distance teaching: record lectures and make them available online, as well as all literature from the libraries. In addition a user-friendly interface on the library homepage. Introduce online exams and maintain and expand digital teaching even after the pandemic.

MOBILITY

Extend the semester ticket to Marburg, Gießen and Koblenz as well as better timing of the regular buses to the university. We strive for closer and better communication with the transport companies.

UNIVERSITY LIFE

University sports by and for students - students offer university sports themselves with the support of the university. Introduction of a university sports tournament in the summer semester where students from all over Germany compete in their disciplines. In addition, an interdisciplinary career fair at the University of Siegen for all courses.

FINANCES

Dare less AStA - focus the AStA's influence on the university landscape and local issues instead of addressing global politics. In addition, we would like to develop a sustainable repayment concept for the repayment of small loans, which is not only based on trust.

SDS.Die LINKE Siegen

Political agenda of the SDS (Socialist Democratic Student Association)

- 1 financial aid for students throughout the Corona pandemic
- 2 free exam attempts throughout the pandemic
- 3 neither physical nor digital compulsory attendance
- 4 digital follow-up of course content should be easily accessible for all course participants without exception
- 5 possibility to borrow hardware (laptops, etc.) more easily & better financing of software (zoom licenses, etc.) for digital teaching
- 6 expansion of the library's online magazine with interlibrary loan services
- 7 corona-proof workspaces (digital and offline)
- 8 pandemic-compliant "mensa" takeaways (e.g. from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.)
- 9 anonymous digital complaints office about university and study conditions (especially during the pandemic)
- 10 stronger democratization of inner-university committees towards better student participation in university matters

University politics in times of Corona

The world seems to be upside down. The Corona pandemic is defining every aspect of our daily lives. 40 percent of students with part-time jobs have lost them. Zoom lectures dominate our studies. Free time, work and university are becoming a blur. But even before Corona, university was never an ivory tower. When society changes, university changes with it. That's why the SDS doesn't selectively work before elections, but we act continuously nationwide and locally in social movements, creating educational opportunities, supporting urban culture and the general concerns of the student body before and during the Corona pandemic, inside and also outside of university. We combine our practice with a in-depth engagement with political theory which we continuously reflect on the basis of our experiences. We want to remain a group valuing interactive participation that offers interested students a chance to be involved and to influence our positions. As a socialist-democratic student association, we want to overcome the undemocratic economic system of capitalism. Instead, we see a human future in a democratically planned need-based economy. We identify a flawed system behind the crises.

Sustainability and ecology

The systemic flaws are most evident when it comes to the climate catastrophe. „System Change, not Climate Change!“ is a slogan of the climate movement that we must act upon. Members of the SDS were a driving force behind the founding of Students for Future Siegen and during the climate strike week in the occupied Audimax as well as the demands and oversight of renewable energy, recycling and sustainable, affordable cafeteria food on the part of the University of Siegen. An SDS member also took over the editorship of the climate politics magazine „plan et al.“ to raise public awareness for the pressing issues of our time. However, our activism and protest on the streets continue to be at the heart of our ecological advocacy. Fridays for Future, Extinction Rebellion, Ende Gelände and many other climate justice initiatives are expressing an urgency that the government has been failing to address for years. Its inaction is based on structural dependence on an economic system that prioritizes competition for growth and profit over the needs of its people and the planet. The accompanying waste of resources is incompatible with sustainability. Despite 1.4 million people taking to the streets during the Third Global Climate Strike in Germany alone, the disappointing climate package fails to deliver real effective action.

Many crises, one system.

Our influence on the economy and politics beyond protest movements is even more limited. It is limited to half a minute every four years in which we put a cross in favor of a parliamentary representation that is not bound by election promises. We don't get to decide how and what we produce. This goes back to the inherently undemocratic economic order. Under capitalism, a few who own large corporations, housing and machinery earn profit by exploiting millions of wage earners. A large majority of us students are part of the exploited and marginalized. After graduating university, almost all of us will have to sell our mental or physical labor for an unfair wage. Especially during the Corona crisis, it becomes obvious that it is working people who carry most of the burden and keep society going, while the wealth of the few billionaires keeps on growing immeasurably through their exploitation. We also experience the consequences directly and indirectly in our everyday lives as students: We rush from our poorly paid part-time jobs to university classes that rarely interest us but earn necessary credit points. Our educational path, like society as a whole, is saturated with the capitalist system of competition.

Public transport & connecting class politics

So are we and the planet we live on at the mercy of the capitalist system? No. The school strikes did not achieve the desired effect because strikes by schoolchildren hardly endanger the profits of those responsible for the climate catastrophe. We see Fridays for Future's plan to join strikes in local and long-distance public transport (LPT) as a step toward real economic pressure. A traffic turn towards an expansion of local and long-distance public transport is an important climate policy concern with direct consequences for CO2 emissions. In Siegen, the need to improve local public transport is obvious. Ironically, local „public“ transport is not in public but in private hands. For several years, this has made the situation increasingly unacceptable for students as well. The student body is one of the largest groups in the transport sector. Many would like to see an extended semester ticket with a low-cost fare to the RMV area. If public transportation workers and students recognized and strengthened their connection to each other, we could move closer to such short-term goals as well as a broader social-ecological traffic turn.

Fight against the right

In contrast, everything that divides us as people, hinders our goals. Places of encounter and common struggles are prevented by discrimination and oppression. The greatest threat comes from the growing right, represented in parliament by the AfD, and its misanthropy. In mid-2020, a party office of the openly fascist Nazi party „Der III. Weg“ opened in our city, which since then has made itself seen and felt with brutal violence. Our active struggle against fascism takes place in the city center of Siegen and also on campus. German history proves why we especially cannot allow people with a fascist and racist worldview to get podiums at the university and in the city. As members of the SDS, we have initiated the broad alliance „Siegen gegen Rechts“ (Siegen against the Right) in order to prevent a repetition of Nazi history at its beginnings. However, we will not be able to satisfy people's fears for the future in view of the looming economic crisis by telling them fairy tales about a good or „green“ capitalism. We must stand up in word and deed for the fact that there is no alternative to this cruel, unjust system, while at the same time making it clear that the Nazis want to create an even more deadly order without solving the real problems.

Change is possible!

We can only solve the real problems together. For change, we must offer students, whose voices are often unheard, an opportunity to actively shape conditions. Our political concept offers concrete improvements for students throughout the crisis. But real change must go beyond that of course. This also includes making the city of Siegen more attractive for students with art and cultural events providing spaces to discover shared visions. Projects like „Die Manege“ have shown that this can be made possible even throughout the pandemic with well thought-out, corona-sensitive concepts. Incapacitating representation in the AStA or student parliament leads to a disassociation from the student body and the issues that actually affect students. We hope our perspective on social and university-related change has become clearer through our crisis program. If it has sparked your interest and hope for a better world, become part of this change with and within the SDS. We are stronger together!
